

HISTORY

This dog was highly-valued in rural Mallorca during the last century. In 1990 the “Mallorcan Ratting Dog” club was born, undertaking the task of selecting and reviving this native Mallorcan race, yielding results in 2002 when the race was recognised as such by the Ministry of Agriculture and Fishing.

Personality: This breed is known for its fearless and independent nature. It is a highly intelligent and alert breed, often used for ratting and hunting. The breed is also known for its loyalty and affection towards its owners. It is a highly energetic breed and requires regular exercise and mental stimulation. It is a highly trainable breed and can be used for a variety of tasks, including ratting, hunting, and as a watchdog. It is a highly intelligent breed and can be used for a variety of tasks, including ratting, hunting, and as a watchdog. It is a highly intelligent breed and can be used for a variety of tasks, including ratting, hunting, and as a watchdog.

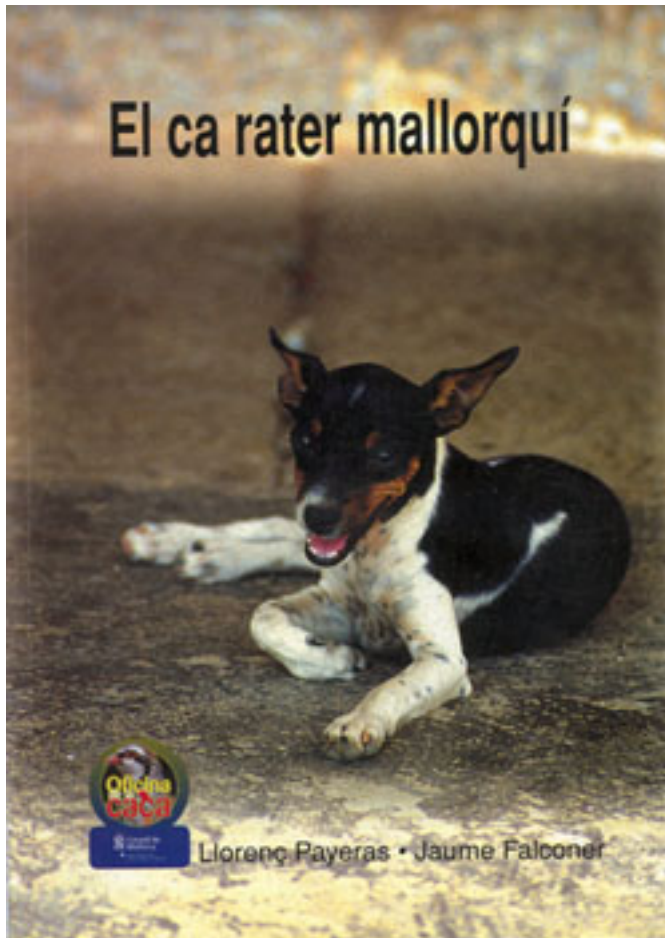

el ca rater mallorquí

llorenç payeras

jaume falconer

DOMEASADBOOK FALCONER, 1998, 4,50 p. ISBN 84-923765-0-8 Illes de les Illes Balears. Palma de Mallorca Govern Balear, 1998, 4,50 p. ISBN 84-923765-0-8